

My friends approach writing different from me – am I doing something wrong?

Academic Writing for Economists

Okay, I have a topic.
What now?

Friday, February 2nd, 2.00pm – 6.00pm

Saturday, February 3rd, 10.00am – 4.00pm

Olshausenstraße 75/S2, Room 167, 24118 Kiel

This class, organised by PerLe (Projekt erfolgreiches Lehren und Lernen) in cooperation with the Department of Economics, is aimed at all (Master) students that need to write a seminar paper and are not sure how to approach this project.

This is an elective course that focuses specifically on the writing process. It is not an alternative to the seminar preparation course hosted by the ZBW or other seminar preparation/accompanying courses.

I am stuck! What do I do now?

What belongs in the text?

How do I work around a 'central theme'?
